

Alworth Scholarship Website Now Open for Accepting Applications

The website is now open for accepting applications and runs through Jan. 15, 2022. Application forms and full eligibility criteria, including a list of STEM majors for which Alworth funds are provided, may be found at www.alworthscholarship.org. The award amount is $20,000.

General Scholarship Information Sessions and Tips for Applying

Assistance with the application process will be provided during three Zoom sessions hosted by Patty Salo Downs of the Marshall H. and Nellie Alworth Memorial Fund and Karen Sunderman of the Duluth Superior Area Community Foundation. Interested students and their parents are invited to participate. Each will run approximately 30 minutes in length.

STEM Talks with Professor Alworth

Three new videos recently added, with three more added by Thanksgiving. Alworth recipients share how they took an interest of theirs and turned it into a rewarding STEM career. They also tell how the scholarship allowed them to participate in undergraduate research, study abroad, internships and more, including graduating with little to no debt. It is our hope that you will show these videos in the classroom or create an extra credit project around them. We look forward to hearing from you and your students with any feedback that you may have.

Posters and Newsletters

Please let us know if you need more posters for putting up in math and science classroom, hallways and counseling office. As for the newsletter, we would be happy to mail additional copies to share with school administrators, math and science teachers, students and parents. It is also available online AlworthMemorialFund Newsletter Fall2021.pdf \(alworthscholarship.org\)

Encouraging Students to Apply

Many Alworth recipients have said that it was the encouragement from their teachers and counselors that made them apply. Thank you for providing the extra “nudge” they needed and we look forward to your continued support.
